RAILROAD TRAVEL MAY BE CURBED TO REDUCE INFLUENZA

Number of "Flu" Cases Since Outbreak of Epidemic Is 250,020.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Unless the public voluntarily reduces railway travel to the minimum of actual war necessities, there is a strong probability of the enforcement of a compulsory restriction of interstate traffic as an emergency measure to stay the progress of influenza now sweeping the country.

Surgeon General Blue of the United States public health service has officially recommended to Director General McAdoo that the railroad administration take steps to discourage all unnecessary travel.

While conditions are gradually improving in the army camps, the extent and death toll of the malady among the troops in training in this country are shown in an official summary covering the situation up to noon today.

The number of influenza cases alone since the beginning of the outbreak is 250,020 and of pneumonia 37,465, with a total of 10,741 deaths. During the last week there has been a daily average of 800 deaths among the troops.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 15.—Theaters, movies, night schools, lodge halls and all places of public amusement will be closed indefinitely Tuesday under order of the state health department to fight the influenza-pneumonia epidemic. The order is state wide and also affects day schools which have not adequate medical supervision.

In the last forty-eight hours the toll taken from Chicago by the double epidemic is 418 lives. It is because these figures indicate a slight increase in the ravages of the diseases that the drastic order has been put into effect.
