Have you seen the exhibition of soldiers' and sailors' photos?

If you haven't seen the exhibit, you should. Hundreds of photos, boys you know—Louisville and Jefferson county boys, mostly. Some of them in camps in this country, some "over there," some on ships. A few who have made the "supreme sacrifice," who have given their all to their country—their lives. Still others, wounded; with an insignia grander than the Croix de Guerre.

On each photo is the name and branch of service of these gallant boys.

We are placing the photos in the windows just as fast as we can get them ready, and we are prouder of this exhibit than of anything this store ever did. "It's mighty good patriotic propaganda," as one man said.

We have enough room to take care of and display all photos that can be brought in within the next four or five days. Prefer photos of "the boys" in uniform—if you have such bring them in, but if not, then any other will do. Cabinet size, if you have it. But any size will be cared for. We ask your co-operation—let's show everybody "our boys."

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL LOUISVILLE, KY.

FRIDAY.....NOVEMBER 8, 1918

BERNHEIM DISTILLERY SOLD FOR $39,000 AT AUCTION

Valuable Property South of City Limits Bought By A. B. Flarsheim.

For the ridiculously low price of $39,000, the huge Bernheim distillery plant was sold yesterday at public auction to A. B. Flarsheim, vice president of the Bernheim Distilling Company. The plant is situated on nine acres of valuable ground, at a point on the Illinois Central railroad and Bernheim lane, just south of the Louisville city limits, and is improved with a modern distillery plant and a number of buildings, and is said to represent an original investment of about half a million dollars.

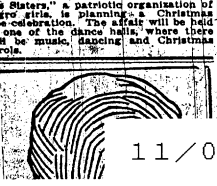
Mr. Flarsheim, the successful bidder, bought the property for investment purposes, according to his statement. Should the property be salvaged it would not even a large profit under that condition, it is authoritatively stated.

Louis P. Hyman and Louis M. Goldman, of Danville, Ill., were the unsuccessful bidders. In order to qualify as bidders, the terms of a certified check for $5,000 with the auctioneer was required. The Bernheim plant since 1911 has been operated by the United American Company.

Mr. Flarsheim also purchased for $5 all title to the company's brands and trademarks.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION FOR NEGRO SOLDIERS

In order that the negro soldiers at Camp Zachary Taylor may experience a bit of the cheer that they would have had at home at the Yuletide season, the "Sammie Sisters," a patriotic organization of negro girls, is planning a Christmas tree celebration. The affair will be held at one of the dance halls, where there will be music, dancing and Christmas carols.



GARMENTS ARE SENT TO MOUNTAINS OF KENTUCKY

PLENTY OF WORK FOR WOMAN'S COMMITTEE OF DEFENSE COUNCIL.

The Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense this week is shipping to the mountains of Eastern Kentucky 1,800 garments that were contributed in response to an urgent appeal coming from Jackson county. Mrs. Marvin Lewis, corresponding secretary of the Woman's Committee, received a letter from Miss Anna Powell, a school teacher and chairman of the Jackson county unit, stating that the children were attending school barefooted and in rags, and that they were absolutely destitute. The teachers in Jackson county saw and realized the need of the poverty-stricken homes around them, but they were helpless to alleviate conditions. Most of them have not even been paid for their work.

Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Keith Bullitt, chairman of the Jefferson county unit, sent out a call to the various community centers, and Clifton, Crescent Hill and Lyndon were generous in their response. Within a week's time seven boxes of cast-off finery were on their way to become cast-on finery.

The last word of the Woman's Committee is not finished when peace is declared is made evident by the following telegram which came to Mrs. Helm Bruce yesterday from Washington:

"I earnestly beg you not to relax your efforts in the slightest degree on account of the possibility of an early armistice. Even if an armistice should be concluded, this does not mean that the war is over, and in any case the emergency will not be over for a long time. Most of the work you have been called on to perform must go on undiminished, and I hope every man and woman in the Council of Defense system will stay on the job. In a few days I will write you as to the outlook for future work. FRANKLIN K. LANE, Chairman Field Division Council National Defense."

The Woman's Committee, Council of National Defense, was organized in April, 1917, to afford a direct channel of communication between the Government and the women of the country. It undertakes no work that is not recommended to it by some department of the Government. The organization in Kentucky, which is headed by Mrs. Helm Bruce, as State chairman, includes 101 county unit organizations.

"UNCLE SAM" HELPING IN BIG WAR WORK DRIVE

MAY LIFT CAMP BAN SUNDAY

If Order Is Issued, Visitors Will Be Allowed At Camp Zachary Taylor.

CHAPLAINS GRADUATED

By CHARLES E. JOHANBOEKE.

Although no definite date has yet been set by the medical officers for the removal of quarantine restrictions which have been in effect at Camp Zachary Taylor since the outbreak of the influenza epidemic, indications are that the ban will be raised Sunday. The disease has been almost exterminated, and it is believed that the camp authorities will follow the action taken by the State Board of Health and permit resumption of activities which were temporarily put out of operation during the emergency.

In the event this action is taken, visitors will be allowed in the reservation Sunday, the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus buildings and Liberty Theater will be opened, and the number of soldiers permitted to go into the city at night will be increased from 10 to 25 per cent of the strength of each organization.

Opportunity of winning commissions have been extended to 150 more enlisted men from artillery organizations at the local cantonment, and the temporary tented camp of the Field Artillery Firing Center at Point Pleasant. These men have been appointed students of the Field Artillery Central Officers' Training School, and will enter upon their studies today. They are:

Forty conscientious objectors are to be granted farm furloughs not to exceed six months and not to be effective in their home communities. The pay they are to receive is to be $1.50 a day, but the excess of $30 a month, a private's pay, is to go to the American Red Cross. Applications for employment of these men should be made to Maj. Thomas A. Moore, Camp Adjutant.

One hundred and sixty junior officers of the Field Artillery Replacement Depot have been relieved from duty of attending the school for newly-commissioned officers and have been assigned to duty with the various units of the organization. One hundred and eighty-five of the A. E. F. have been designated students to pursue post-graduate courses at the School of Fire, at Fort Sill, Okla.

Private Leonard A. Saulsberry, Battery C, 3d Regiment, Field Artillery Replacement Depot, suffered injuries to his right eye and cheek in a motorcycle accident, and was taken to the surgical ward at the base hospital. The motorcycle overturned with him.

Chaplains Are Graduated.

One hundred and forty-three students of the Training School for Chaplains and Approved Chaplain Candidates were graduated and commissioned Chaplains with the rank of First Lieutenant at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Seventy five of them are to have overseas service, while the others have been assigned to organizations at camps throughout the nation.

Maj. John F. Axton, who has been an army chaplain for more than twenty years, and who came to see his son, John Axton, graduated, and Maj. Pierre Bernard Chief Protestant chaplain of the Belgian army, and Charles T. McFarland, of New York City, representative of the Federation of Churches of Christ in America, addressed the graduates. The case of Maj. Axton and Lieut. Axton is said to be the only instance in the history of the United States army where a father and son were both serving as chaplains at the same time.

Nine Kentuckians, including three from Louisville, and four Indianans were among the graduates. The Kentuckians were: Miles Bond Hays, Baptist, Wesley Lenry Baker, Methodist, and Dillard Worth Richardson Lupton, Unitarian, of Louisville, Edward Collins McAulister, Episcopal, Fewer Valley, William Oscar Blount, Midway, Monta M. McFarland, Bellewarre, Manuel Augustus Cooper, Auburn, and Walter Jeffersa Matheny, Bardstown, Baptists, and George C. Parker, negro, Methodist, of Princeton.

Those from Indiana were: Ernest Dewitt Gilbert, Disciple, of Warren, and Ralph Winfred Rogers, of Forrest, Orlando Ross, of Monroe, and Karl Ray Thompson, Pleasant Mills, Methodists.

Enlisted men of the Ordnance Department, assigned to tactical units, are to have opportunity for advancement by appointment to commissioned grades, it has been officially announced. Men considered qualified for commissions are to be examined by a board appointed for this purpose, and recommendations are to be forwarded to the Chief of Ordnance.

Four Deaths At Hospital.

Four deaths occurred at the base hospital, one of which resulted from influenza and the others from other causes. The victims were:

Private Carl C. McDonald, 26 years old, son of Joseph F. McDonald, Talbot, Ind., influenza.

Private Burton Moore, 26 years old, stepson of Mrs. Sarah Woods, Youngstown, O., kidney trouble.

Private Clarence M. Mitchell, 18 years old, son of Mrs. Amelia Mitchell, Rolla, Mo., pneumonia.

Private James E. Glover, 24 years old, son of John L. Glover, Lenoke, Arkansas, influenza.

"The Wolf" by Eugene Walter, is being given by the Soldiers Players at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Because of the large size of the building the camp surgeon, Lieut. Col. Edward Kreiger, and the camp officials gave permission for the performance under restrictions that only a company would attend each performance and these restrictions would be enforced. The players were coached by Foxhall Daningerfield, dramatic instructor for the Camp Y. M. C. A. It is the largest production that has been attempted by the soldiers actors, and is a decided success.

Clemens A. Post, a member of the Y. M. C. A. French faculty at the local camp, entered the Field Artillery Central Officers' Training School yesterday. During the two years prior to entering the Y. M. C. A. work Mr. Post was an instructor in Williams College, at Williamstown, Mass. He came here from New York city.

Owing to the increase in membership in the French classes under the supervision of Prof. J. R. Glace, the latter has arranged for several more instructors in the near future. French has for some time been a compulsory study for the officers of the local camp and there was no cessation of those activities during the epidemic. One hundred classes are conducted each week in the Depot Brigade, twenty-four in the Base Hospital area and twenty-five in the F. A. R. D. in addition to other classes among the headquarters detachments. Arrangements have been completed for organizing classes in the 6th Pioneer Infantry and the classes at West Point will also be resumed in the near future.

WEDS TEXAS SOLDIER AS DIVORCE IS GRANTED

Bessie B. Dawson was granted a divorce from Enoch T. Dawson on the ground of cruelty and restored to her maiden name of Pearock. She also was awarded the custody of an infant daughter.

Immediately after the decree was granted by Special Judge Hardin H. Herr, sitting during the illness of Chancellor Arthur M. Wallace, the plaintiff journeyed to the office of the County Clerk, where she was joined by Bill C. Johnson, of Paris, Texas. Later they were granted a marriage license. Johnson was in the uniform of a soldier.

The proof in the case showed that the Dawsons were married June 15, 1913.

CARRIES MESSAGES OF CHEER TO YANKEE TROOPS

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY BEARS WORDS OF GREETING FROM PROMINENT MEN.

"We regard you as the saviors of our country. We earnestly hope that you will come back to your homes in America safe and well for—I have no doubt—a long, happy life, during which you will exhibit with pride to your mothers and families, and, in years to come, show them to your children and grandchildren. Keep a clean heart and a clean body and may God be with you."

Such is the message sent by Cardinal Gibbons by means of the American Expeditionary Forces to France, to Conaway, a Y. M. C. A. secretary. It illustrates Conaway's purpose in delivering the message every hotel, dugout and shelter of the seven assembled welfare agencies—the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the War Camp Community Service, the National Catholic War Council, K. of C., the War Welfare Board, American Library Association and Salvation Army that have joined in the United War Work Campaign, November 11 to 18, to raise $170,500,000 to carry on their work.

Mr. Conaway, a prominent Indiana public attorney, whose whole family is in the service, insured his welcome "over there" by carrying with him messages from the Cardinal from Governors of the various states, and from other prominent persons. The message from Col. Theodore Roosevelt bespoke his own keen yearning to share the fortunes that with the men who are fighting for liberty.

"I send my heartiest greeting to you men at the front," wrote Roosevelt. "You have done all of those at home can stay behind lift our heads high with pride by what you are doing. It is your privilege to show that you are worthy of the great vital work for America to-day. All good Americans at this time owe duty to the flag, and for the men at the front. What you are doing is vital for the honor and the interest, for the future welfare and for the very existence of our republic. You are also battling for the liberty of every well-behaved man and woman on the face of the globe. I congratulate you on the chance to endure hardship and peril for so great an ideal and I envy you equally the privilege of all services. I would give anything I think to be over there with you."

TWO ARE RELEASED ON HABEAS CORPUS WRITS

LACK OF WARRANT BRINGS FREEDOM FOR MAN WANTED IN OHIO.

No warrant having been produced before that James P. Clark's order indictment in the State of Ohio on any charge, he was released from custody by Judge Harry W. Bowman yesterday on writ of habeas corpus after he was placed under arrest Wednesday on information from Deputy that he was wanted in that city, but the court held that the information should have been accompanied by a warrant showing that he was a fugitive from justice.

It developed during the hearing that Clark obtained his three children from an orphan asylum in Cincinnati several weeks ago and brought them to Louisville. It was shown that after his wife had been granted the custody of the children by the courts, Deaton ran placed them in the orphanage, and Clark said he was simply able to support them and that rather than have them raised in an orphanage. Although the question of kidnapping the children did not arise in the hearing, it was discussed by both sides, and Judge Robinson said he did not know exactly what to do. He declared the prosecution of a father for taking his own flesh and blood for the purpose of giving them proper care and attention was a serious matter. Charges are being collected at the present time for failure to support his wife and children, and Judge Robinson said he was anxious to do the right thing by the children. He will confer with Judge Grinstead, who has charge of the case, and see that they are given a home in suitable surroundings.

Clark was also discharged from custody by Judge Samuel H. Kash, yesterday, as a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that he was being held illegally. It was asserted in Walker county, that was not accompanied by a bench warrant, and that the charge of which he was accused was not sufficient to say under indictment, and that he had been fined on a charge of malicious shooting. Clark is also wanted in Walker county on a warrant charging that he was a fugitive from justice. There was no attempt to have the habeas corpus writ served.
