*Mask law became effective.

New cases of Spanish influenza in San Francisco reached the lowest mark yesterday since this city was visited by the second wave of the epidemic.

Up to 4 o'clock yesterday only 35 new cases were reported for the 24 hour period. The deaths for the same time totaled nine, this being due, according to the health authorities, to cases of the past two weeks which are now proving fatal. Of the new cases reported yesterday 21 were recorded by telephone and fourteen by mail.

"I would urge the citizens at this time," declared Dr. W. C. Hassler last night, "to continue their precautions. It will necessitate a period of four days before we will have succeeded in eradicating the disease from our city and full co-operation is necessary."

Conditions at the San Francisco hospital, as well as other hospitals in the city, were back to normal yesterday and have been improving since people began wearing masks. At the Board of Health all relief measures practically ceased, due to no further calls for help.

ANTI-MASK MEETING.

At the Anti-Mask League mass meeting last night at Dreamland Rink resolutions were passed denouncing the mask ordinance as contrary to the desires of a majority of the people.

Nearly 2000 persons attended the meeting and though the hall was nearly half occupied, a fair sum was realized in a collection which was taken up by a crew of fifty ushers.

Mrs. E. C. Harrington presided. Among the speakers were Madame E. C. Grosjean, Mrs. Margaret Mahoney, Miss Rosie Jones and C. F. Welsh of the Waiters' union. Supervisor Eugene Schmitz, who had been advertised as the principal speaker, failed to appear.

FRENCH ARTISTS TO HELP DRIVE

During the week, February 17 to 22, a collection of paintings and wood carvings by French soldiers of the "Societe des Invalides, No. 2," will be shown in the ballroom of the Fairmont.

The exhibit will be arranged by J. N. Laurvik, director of the Palace of Fine Arts, and held under the auspices of the French ministry of the interior.

Included in the collection are water colors by Louis Ponsin, oil paintings by Madeline, Marret and de Mancourt, and pen sketches by Jean Droit. Ceramics by Lachenal, Favre and Lechere will be featured, and wood carvings by M. Trudon.

All these artists have been permanently disabled as a result of the war. They are classed as "Invalides, No. 2" by the French government, and receive no pension.

To assist a drive for funds in aid of these invalids, Mayor Rolph recently proclaimed February 20 to 22 as French soldiers' relief days.

The drive will be conducted by William Sandoz, commissioner to the United States from the French ministry of the interior.
