INDICTMENTS FOUND AGAINST FORTY-SIX
Two Bills Grow Out of Rosenberg Robbery.
 The December Grand Jury yesterday afternoon handed up forty-six indictments to Supreme Court Justice William W. Clark. Twenty-seven were sealed bills and will be made public as the men are taken into custody.
 Joseph Green a colored man, was indicted for murder, second degree. He is charged with killing James Jarvis on December 7th with a knife at No. 108 Industrial street. Two indictments were found as a result of the Rosenberg Brothers robberies of cloth and other materials. The men indicted are R. B. Roscoe, charged with stealing cloth valued at $4,320, and John W. McCafferty, charged with the same offense. An additional charge of burglary, third degree for the same job is made against Roscoe. The following is a list of open indictments:
 Sylvester McNally, burglary, third degree, charged with stealing $100 from Charles M. Yoshida, January 13, 1918; indicted as second offense.
 Bert Gallows, burglary, third degree, charged with breaking into Pennsylvania railroad freight car July 15, 1918.
 Dominick Alarcuro, criminal assault, second degree, alleged to have been committed upon 15-year-old girl (two indictments).
 Pasquale Belmont, criminal assault, second degree.

DR. GOLER AT BUREAU
 Dr. Goler, Director of Camp Wadsworth, and Quarantine Division, is here for a short stay.

Sixteen deaths from influenza and two from lobar pneumonia were reported yesterday to the Health Bureau. This largest total of weeks caused some alarm among the workers at the bureau, but Dr. George W. Goler, who assumed his duties as health officer yesterday after a long absence in army work at Camp Wadsworth, did not appear to regard the situation as more critical than expected.
 The day's report showed 119 new cases of influenza and four of pneumonia. Since October 1st there have been 17,037 cases of influenza and 523 cases of pneumonia reported. The deaths from the two dread diseases now number 944.

Dr. Goler Assumes Duties.
 Dr. Goler donned his white coat and entered with characteristic energy into his old duties yesterday.
 "We must not be too enthusiastic about the passing of this disease," Dr. Goler remarked. "Experience has taught us that single waves of such a disease are not usual, so we may expect waves to follow. What would you do if you lost $2,000 in business? You would guard against a repetition of the loss, wouldn't you? Of course; and that is what people have to do with the influenza, guard against taking it again."
 "Is the disease the old-fashioned la grippe?" was asked.
 "It is not likely," Dr. Goler replied. "There are some points of resemblance, but there are big differences. The present epidemic is caused by a floating virus invisible even with the microscope. Nicol, a French scientist has separated this virus, however, and inoculations with it have developed the disease known as influenza."

Eighteen Deaths Reported.
 The following deaths were reported to the bureau yesterday:
LOBAR PNEUMONIA.
 Mrs. Irene Hutchinson, 20, of No. 63 Doran street.
 William East, 28, of Summerville, died at Homeopathic Hospital.
INFLUENZA.
 Ethel Baker, of No. 4 Ivy street, died at Hasbrouck Hospital.
 Robert Grattan, 38, of No. 1740 East avenue.
 Anabel Theil Wright, 12, of No. 108 Cummings street.
 Edward Shaeffer, 34, of No. 351 Child street, died in Municipal Hospital.
 Arthur Greinke, 23, of No. 130 Scrantom street, died at Hasbrouck Hospital.
 William Sutherland, 37, of No. 459 Melville street.
 Harry Clancy, 32, of No. 200 Hillside avenue, died at General Hospital.
 Domenick Damico, 53, of No. 25 Centre park.
 Fern Centofante, 9 months, of No. 50 Coaster street.
 Martin Buschle, 57, of No. 985 Clinton avenue north.
 Gertrude M. Halo, 35, of No. 121 Urquhart street, died at Hasbrouck Hospital.
 Selby Johnson, 18, of No. 516 Court street, died at Hasbrouck Hospital.
 Anna Geraci, 6, of No. 335 Clinton avenue north, died at St. Mary's Hospital.
 Peter Geraci, 3, of No. 335 Clinton avenue north, died at St. Mary's Hospital.
 Helen Holling, 27, of No. 423 Jay street, died at the Homeopathic Hospital.
 Joseph Garvey, 33, of No. 630 Thurston road, died at General Hospital.

Among the saddest cases were those of Anna Geraci and her younger brother, Peter, who died at St. Mary's Hospital. These two children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Geraci, of No. 335 Clinton avenue north, died yesterday within a few minutes of each other.

 Once Paris Correspondent of Cologne Journal

GAME II RE-OPEN HOLLAND
 Federal Authorities Suspect He Has to Meet von Rottweil but Have Been Unable to It—Came Under Assumed Name
 Orders for the internment of George Albert Ohl, the enemy alien who arrested some time ago by United States marshals upon the suspicion that he might have been connected with Paul Buehspels, alias George Rottweiler, were received yesterday by United Marshal John D. Lynn, although the connection between the two men has not been definitely proven. It is considered that Ohl is too dangerous to be at large.
 Sent Tips on Races.

Ohl was the Paris correspondent for the Sport Journal of Cologne in the years preceding the outbreak of the war, and daily sent a number of telegrams to Germany. These telegrams were supposed to be stories and tips on the races, according to his story, but are believed to have contained much information of military value.
 Ohl was ordered out of Paris following Germany's declaration of war, and went to Rotterdam, Holland. Here he met a woman named Gertrude Frank, who gave him Rottweiler's address in this country. It is Ohl's claim that he never knew Rottweiler, and that he failed to establish a connection with him after reaching this country.
 It is the belief of the Federal officials, however, that Ohl is of much more importance than at first seems apparent; that the reason that he failed to establish a connection with Rottweiler was because the man had become entangled with the law and was in the hands of the Department of Justice, and that he is a dangerous alien.
 To Meet von Rottweiler.

THREE-DAY SCHOOL IN FARMING AT RUSH
 To Be Opened There on Thursday Morning.
 A three-day school under the auspices of Monroe County Farm Bureau Association and the State College of Agriculture will open at Rush on Thursday morning, December 19th, at 9:30 o'clock. Sessions will continue through Saturday afternoon.
 The school will be in charge of H. A. Hopper and W. W. Warsaw, well-known dairy and soil authorities, respectively.
 Besides the lecture and discussions on strictly agricultural subjects such as "Principles of Soil Fertility," "Roughness in Milk Production," "Selection and Use of Concentrators," and the like, David C. Vann, manager of the Farm Bureau, from 3 to 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon will present the community program for Rush.
 The program for the school follows:
 Thursday, 9:30 A. M.—Organization of school. Mr. Hopper: 10 A. M.—"Principles of Soil Fertility." Mr. Warsaw: 11 A. M.—"Roughness in Milk Production." Mr. Hopper: 1 P. M.—"Land Drainage." Mr. Warsaw: 1 P. M.—"Soil Moisture." Mr. Warsaw: 2:30 P. M.—"Soil Records and the Store." Mr. Hopper: Friday, 9:30 A. M.—"Selection and Use of Concentrators." Mr. Hopper: 10:45 A. M.—"Land Drainage." Mr. Warsaw: 1 P. M.—"Soil Acidity and Lime." Mr. Warsaw: Saturday, 9:30 A. M.—"Farm Manure." Mr. Warsaw: 10:45 A. M.—"Market Milk Production." Mr. Hopper: 1 P. M.—"Fertilizers." Mr. Warsaw: 2 P. M.—"Management of Young Stock." Mr. Hopper: 3 P. M.—"Community Projects for Rush in 1919." Mr. Vann.

WAR CHEST SLACKERS FEW, CORPS REPORTS
 Most Who Do Not Pay Have Real Reasons.
 Interesting returns are being received by Roy C. Draper, secretary of the War Service corps of the Monroe County Defense Committee, from the canvass being made by the corps to get information as to delinquent contributors to the War Chest. The corps captains are reporting a remarkably small number of real slackers. Usually the investigation shows that those who have not paid what they promised to pay were the victims of circumstances over which they had no control or there has been some mistake in names or addresses. It has been found that quite a number of those whose pledges were not lived up to died. Most of these have been victims of influenza or pneumonia. Others have left the city. Others are sick or are under heavy expense on account of sickness of the family. Still others have lost their jobs on account of the cessation of hostilities. They are unable to keep up their share of the war chest.
