partments, when it is shown or proven that the appointee is incompetent for the work assigned him.
"I am proposing this new legislation solely in the interest of better government," Mr. McKinney declares. "The west side has all along been bearing its share of the taxation responsibilities of the city, but has always been forced to bow to the will of another section of the city which seems to control the destinies of the city's politics. I want to smash the controlling clique." Mr. McKinney believes that if adopted and made a law his bill will not only regulate abuses of power, now said to exist, but will eliminate them.

NIGHT MESSAGES TO COST LESS MONEY

Rates to Be Reduced on First of Year, Local Advices Put It.

A universal system of night messages at greatly reduced rates has been ordered by Postmaster General Burleson, according to information reaching Salt Lake in the last few days. Local officials of the Western Union Telegraph company declare they have no direct word on this subject.

Word reaching Salt Lake indicates that a cut of about half the present rates will take effect on January 1, giving Salt Lake a rate of 30 cents for ten words to New York, with a federal tax of 5 cents added to this and a 2-cent charge for each additional word over the initial ten. The present rate is 60 cents for ten words, with a federal tax of 5 cents and a charge of 2 cents for additional words.
Rates to near-by points in Utah will be reduced from 25 cents for ten words to a flat 20 cents, with the federal tax of 5 cents added.

Night messages, according to the new system, will be subject to regular messenger delivery, instead of consignment to the mails. The new plan in no way affects the night letter system, which gives the sender the right to send fifty words at a flat rate. The use of code is discouraged by the postmaster general.

MRS. E. A. SELBACH DIES IN SALT LAKE

Mrs. Caroline C. Selbach, 76 years of age, wife of Captain E. A. Selbach, died yesterday. Captain and Mrs. Selbach recently came to Salt Lake from Denver to make their home here. Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, Oscar C. Selbach of London, D. O. Selbach of San Francisco and Emil H. Selbach, manager of the Selbach insurance agency of Salt Lake. Private funeral services will be held in this city this morning, following which the body will be taken to Denver for funeral services and interment.

Negressa Is Arrested.

Mary Carr, 33 years of age, a negress, was arrested at Fifth West and Second South streets last night by Plain-clothes-men Julian Riley and P. H. Clayton on a charge of selling whisky. She was held in the city jail in default of $300 bail.

grammar. Nothing supersedes Homer, Socrates or the works of Plato and Demosthenes. All of these were current in the Greek world before the rise of Christianity.

"The Greeks held supremacy in science, as well as in other departments of knowledge. They did not discover the power of heat or electricity, but they carried out in mechanical works projects that no modern builder, with all his vaunted control of nature, can accomplish. Greek thought has been the greatest and clearest that the world has yet experienced."

"Half of the allied army on the Macedonian front in this great war was composed of Greeks. It was in the Macedonian campaign that the Bulgarian defense was crushed and the Austro-German and Turko-Bulgarian despotisms were once and for all overthrown."

"Bulgaria's surrender meant also the downfall of Turkey and Austria. Thus the threatened destruction of liberty, humanity, honor and religion was stopped by the collapse of Bulgaria."

The resolutions follow:
"Whereas, The President of the United States, in his declaration of principles, in relation to the terms of settlement, has shown his interest in, and pledged his full support at the forthcoming peace conference to, the political as well as the territorial rights of nations; and

"Whereas, in the interest of justice, the unredeemed Greeks of Bulgaria and the Turkish empire are, by petition and declaration, appealing for union with their motherland, and for the restoration of their political and territorial rights as a part of the Greek nation; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we welcome this opportunity of giving our individual and collective support to the appeal of the 3,000,000 unredeemed Greeks who today are looking to Americans as their liberators; and, be it further "Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the president of the United States, to congress, to the public press and to Premier Venizelos of Greece."

EVENING SCHOOL TO BEGIN AGAIN TONIGHT

The Salt Lake City Evening school will resume its sessions tonight at 7 o'clock at the West high school.

In addition to the courses that were provided at the time the influenza closing order stopped the work of the school, a course in home nursing and a course in millinery is now offered. Two additional portable buildings have also been provided and equipped for instruction in automobile repairing. For this reason, Principal Anderson announces that all who want the course may now be taken care of. Early enrollment is advised.
New students, as well as those who were in attendance last October, are invited to join the classes.

Sessions are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock.
A study and reading room has been added to the school and will be open on school nights, not only to students of the school, but to the public as well.

TOURIST SERVICE IN TABERNACLE SUNDAY

Only a service for tourists visiting Salt Lake will be held in the tabernacle next Sunday, commencing at 11 o'clock in the morning. Due to the fact that next Sunday is fast day in the church there will be no afternoon meeting, all services being confined to those held in the ward chapels.

On Sunday, January 12, the first service is to be held in the tabernacle since it was closed on account of the influenza epidemic. Provided there be no other closing order issued by the health board the tabernacle meetings will be held regularly on each Sunday afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, except on the first Sunday in every month.

ployment service and other agencies, in helping to place returning soldiers and men from other branches of war service in positions in civil life. Information to this effect has just reached officers of the local home service section of the Red Cross, together with an outline of the proposed plan of action.

The scheme of the Red Cross does not interfere with the general national plan of making local bureaus of the employment service the central agency in carrying out the various phases of the placement idea. Rather it supports this plan in its entirety and pledges its undivided support in this work and all the purposes of the employment service and auxiliary agencies. The home service will immediately offer its aid to those bureaus and agencies already employed in this important undertaking for the benefit of mustered-out men. Suggestions as to other activities will be made from time to time by a central committee in Washington, on which the Red Cross is represented in the soldiers' relief work.

Soldier movement on the lines of railroad passing through Salt Lake has diminished materially since Christmas, the decrease amounting to nearly 50 per cent, according to Salt Lake railway officials.
With the decline of soldier traffic east and west has also been observed a reduction of the number of men reaching this city to remain, after having been finally mustered out of service. Canteen services at both the Oregon Short Line and Denver & Rio Grande stations are, however, well patronized, and the committees in charge find plenty to do in ministering to the immediate wants of hungry soldiers and sailors who apply at the canteens for refreshments daily.

Following is a partial list of men who registered yesterday with the "Welcome Home" committees at the local stations:
