to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS.
In order to stimulate the lining of air passages to throw off the disease germs, to aid in loosening the egm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, VapoRub will be found effective.
Wet towels should be applied over throat, chest and back between shoulder blades to open the pores.
In VapoRub should be rubbed in the parts until the skin is red, read on thickly and covered with thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.
Use the clothing loosely around the k as the heat of the body liberates ingredients in the form of vapors.
Use vapors, inhaled with each sigh, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VapoRub is absorbed through and irritates the skin, attracting the fluid to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE.
Evidence seems to prove that this influenza disease, spread principally by air contact, chiefly through coughing or sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds which means avoiding crowds—common drinking a roller towels, etc. Keep up your strength by plenty of exercise he open air, and good food. Above all, be free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs.

Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first of a cold. For a head cold, melt the VapoRub in a spoon and inhale vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in benzoin steam kettle. If this is available, use an ordinary tea-ble. Fill half-full of boiling water, in half a teaspoon of VapoRub a time to keep the kettle slowly boiling and inhale the arising.

Vick's VapoRub is a discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who did how to combine, in salve form, thol and Camphor with such other oils as Eucalypti, Eucalypti, ebs, etc., so that when the salve is plied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapor.

VapoRub is comparatively new in the North State and New England a few Western states where it is now being introduced, but in the r sections of the country it is the dard home remedy in over a million homes for all forms of cold diseases. Over six millions jars were sold last year. It is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, and is externally applied and is used as freely as any defined the slightest harmful effect. VapoRub can be had in three at all druggists.—Adv.

GRAND RAPIDS SENDS 7 MORE NURSES TO COMBAT INFLUENZA

Seven more nurses left the Grand Rapids hospitals Saturday for service in the army cantonments to endeavor to halt the Spanish influenza and pneumonia epidemic which has been raging throughout the United States.
This makes a total of 27 nurses who have left the hospitals here in the last few weeks for the service.
Twenty-nine nurses, the first contingent to leave, were assigned to Camp Grant in Illinois, the second group of

LEMONS RUSHED EAST
TO COMBAT INFLUENZA

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—Shipments of lemons are being rushed eastward to meet the demand occasioned by the Spanish influenza epidemic.
The sudden demand for the old-fashioned remedy, hot, sugared lemonade, has caused busy calls for the fruit, especially in New England, to meet this call.
The growers are attempting to divert all shipments to points where lemons are most needed.

20 went sent to Camp Custer and the last contingent consisting of seven nurses, two from Butterworth hospital and five from St. Mary's went to Camp Dodge, Iowa.

The girls to leave Saturday noon were:
Miss Clara Hawka and Susan Brown, Butterworth; Miss Cora Cowan, Mary Doller, Miss Theresa Tyrzing, Miss Mabel Rayson and Miss Margaret Sullivan, St. Mary's hospital. The Blodgett hospital contingent not apart any from this contingent although more than seven were asked for by the war department. Miss Mary Welsh of the Blodgett hospital is the chairman of the National Red Cross committee in this city.

of Englewood, West Leonard road.

SERGEANT COHEN BACK
HOME IN GRAND RAPIDS,
WOUNDED AT SOISSONS

Sergt. L. Cohen, 843 Ionla avenue, N.
W., who was wounded in action July 19 at Soissons, has returned home after being in the hospital for three months.

Previous to the engagement in which he received his wounds, Sergt. Cohen was in the battle at Chateau-Thierry, at which place his bunkie was killed beside him.
He speaks in high praise of the spirit of the wounded and also in praise of the work of the Red Cross, which he describes as wonderful.
Cohen was with the 8th regiment of the United States marines.

RETURNED WOUNDED PRESENT
BIG PROBLEM TO WAR BOARD; SPANISH WAR-VETS TO HELP

LANSING, Oct. 12.—Caring for the sick and wounded soldiers as they reach eastern seaports promises to be the big work of the state of Michigan will do during the coming winter.
Opening the bureau in New York city was only the starter and now the members of the war preparedness board are beginning to realize that possibly their hardest work is ahead of them.

Up to the present time there have been few Michigan men returned wounded or sick. Members of the Michigan society in New York, with the assistance of a few people sent down from Lansing and other points in the state have been able to cope with the situation. But within the last few days, Stuart Perry of Adrian, the volunteer head of the New York bureau, has notified the Lansing officials that there is every indication that before long the bureau will be swamped with work. Wounded and those convalescing from wounds received in the big drives around Chateau-Thierry are beginning to come back. And in that drive with its resultant hard fighting there were hundreds of Michigan men injured, as the 32nd division was in the thick of the fighting right along.

Government Plans Are Extensive.
Government plans cover nearly every hospital in the city of New York, for arrangements for space in such of them have been taken. In addition, the government's own hospitals, scattered as they are on the islands in lower New York bay, plus the hospital ships in the Hudson river, will scatter the wounded and sick to the four points of the compass. It is the plan of the Michigan officials to have every Michigan man seen and to learn his needs.
But to do this, in case a large number are received and are scattered through the various hospitals, is going to take the full time of quite a few people. Visits to the sick and wounded are also something a chosen few can understand. Veterans of the Spanish war are the best to understand their whims and wants and can

FORMER G. R. TAILOR
IS HELD IN OWOSSO
ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Bernard Raak, alias Bernard Rook, a tailor, formerly of Grand Rapids, was arrested at Owosso last week on a charge of bigamy. His first wife, from whom he is said not to have been divorced, is a Grand Rapids woman, whose identity has not been revealed.
Raak was first bigamously married last week for having failed to return his questionnaire to the Lansing draft board in 1917. It is said that he was married to a Grand Rapids woman in 1914, but deserted her three years ago.
Last January he married Miss Laura Ortwin of Owosso. He has told Shiba-wasse county officers that he had understood his first wife had obtained a divorce.

WAR EXHIBIT TRAIN TO BE IN GRAND RAPIDS OCT. 17

The war exhibit train, which carries 22 persons, including soldiers, sailors and lecturers, and also has an exhibit of German and French guns and other military equipment of the warring nations, will arrive in Grand Rapids on Thursday, Oct. 17, and will remain here for an hour and a half before leaving for Allegan. The train is scheduled to arrive at 11:15 a. m.

The National Liberty Loan committee has arranged for the exhibit. A reception for the touring party is also planned.

Deep Red Mouse.
LEBANON, Ky., Oct. 5.—R. L. Nesbitt reports that on examining a mouse trap which he had set in a storeroom at his residence on Shuck avenue, he found the trap had impaled a mouse of a deep red color, similar to that of the well known red or fox squirrel. So far as inquiries have been made, this is the only red mouse ever seen in this section.

You'd Startle Your Tailor

if, when you wanted a suit of clothes, you to submit a bid in competition with a doztailors. "Why," he would say, "this is fi-This man knows what kind of a suit of cloth-him. He knows he can depend on the qualmaterial, the make, the fit. He knows me-proved my work. Some fellow around the co-

You don't buy tailoring that way. No m-You know your tailor, you rely on him, you g-you give him your work just as long as he t-good work at prices that are fair.

Do you buy your printing as intelligently? make it your business to find a good printer, a good tailor, and then rely on his expert ability, his judgment?

Men who do, get good printing. Men printing here and there, wherever the price i-closest, are the ones who have worries.
