from $3 and $4 a year to $7, and the closet from $4 to $5. The bath tub is been raised from $3 to $4 a year. It is a costly proposition to have water under these conditions, and the aim of the water department is to discourage the use of unmetered water. It should be stated also that the charges above mentioned are for only one fixture of each kind. For instance, every sub-must be paid for at the rate of $4 a year and every sink at the rate of $7 a year, and so on.

FRATERNAL.

Lowell Aerie of Eagles, 223, held its regular meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Harrington building. Worthy President David Hackett was in the chair and a large amount of routine business was transacted. There were many reports of progress from standing committees. The aerie, owing to the success of the ladies' night a week ago, voted to hold another one in the near future. The organization has voted to erect a monument in St. Joseph's cemetery, and this will make the third to be erected in Lowell by the local aerie.

The lodge will hold a big welcome for the soldiers and sailors on April 27 and the occasion will be of double significance as this date also marks the 17th anniversary of the inception of the Eagles organization in this city.

It is planned to hold a monster banquet on the date mentioned in Associate hall and already the members are interesting themselves in making the event one of the biggest in the history of the aerie.

Under the head of new business interesting remarks were made by Brothers Quinn, Brady and others.
The aerie closed in due form at a late hour.

WILL BE SPEAKER

The committee on chairs appointed for the dinner to be given at the General Assembly, Fourth Regiment of Columbus, met Tuesday evening and the most enthusiastic discussion was had. The plan for Washington's birthday dinner of the assembly and indications point to the fact that the dinner will be the most brilliant and inspiring event of the year. The dinner will be the of the 102nd infantry is to be the headliner at the dinner has evoked more than ordinary interest in the event.
Militia and Seicheprey, decorated by the French with the Croix de Guerre and last Monday formally presented the distinguished, decorated, and of the 102nd infantry, for conspicuous gallantry, ranks with the real heroes of the great world war and hence his reception will be of the warmest kind. His talk on the realism of the battle front the part that the famous 26th division took in the engagement is one of the finest yet heard.

The other speakers, Hon. Charles S.
O'Connor, Rev. John A. Coppinger, state chaplain, Hon. Louis Watson and Mr. John I. Donovan constitute a fine array of speakers.

Edith and Walter Thomas B. Delaney will preside at the after dinner exercises and Sir Knight John V. Donoghue will be toastmaster. The reception committee will be Dr. Thomas Smith, Lewis H. Jenkinson, Matthew Melkielehn, Frederick H. Crosby and Dudley Corliss. Burial was in the family lot in the Edson cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker John A. Weisbeck.

HEARD OF EXPLOITS OF YANKEE DIVISION

Examiner Cronin of the U. S. Employment Bureau and his two assistants, Miss Mary Maloney and Miss Margaret Enwright, attended a dinner for the officers and employees of the U. S. employment service and the Massachusetts employment office, located at the Quincy house, Boston, Tuesday night.

Among the guests were Lieut. Gov.
Channing Cox, Captain Harry Comerford, Edward G. Mather and Everett W. Lord, federal director of the employment service.

Capt. Comerals gave a very interesting talk about his experiences with the 101st regiment and about the 26th division. He was invalided home a few months ago but took part in the larger battles.

Capt. Comerals said that the French people give as much credit to the 26th division for saving Paris as they give to the marines. He told an interesting story about one of the German officers captured by them and who was attached to a shock unit and had moved constantly from front to front. As it happened this German lieutenant had met with the 26th division everywhere they went and when he was captured asked how many 26th divisions there were in the American army.

A very fine and elaborate dinner was served and afterwards there was dancing and singing by the Lowell representatives enjoyed.
