LB
1731
T59

TO IMPROVE THE ACADEMY

◆ 1 9 8 2 ◆

JUN 04 2002

UNIVERSITY OF NEBR.
LIBRARY

Resources for Faculty,
Instructional, & Organizational Development

*A Publication of the Professional & Organizational Development Network in Higher Education
Volume 1*

To Improve the Academy

Resources for Faculty, Instructional, and Organizational Development

P.O.D. Resources—1982

Published by
The Professional and Organizational Development (POD)
Network in Higher Education

Printed by
New Forums Press, Inc.
Stillwater, OK 74075
First Printing: February, 1982

Foreword

The Professional and Organizational Development Network in Higher Education was formed in 1976 by people who felt that they needed a network to support each other in efforts to make learning, teaching and institutional life more effective and fulfilling. Since that time we have gathered annually in a national conference to maintain the network and learn from each other about faculty, instructional and institutional development. POD has organized regional training workshops and established liaison with organizations such as the American Association for Higher Education.

We also shared writing about our work for several years through the POD Quarterly. "To Improve the Academy: POD Resources-1982", the first in what is hoped to be an annual series, is our current attempt to share the written perspectives, reflections and strategies of our members.

Many of the pieces included herein first appeared as background pieces for the active sessions at the annual POD conferences. The materials in the fourth section also represent the kind of handouts and suggestions that we regularly pass on to each other on a limited basis to improve our programming, planning, workshops and consultation. You are encouraged to copy and use these pages, adapting them as appropriate (many are several generations removed from earlier ideas about training and consulting). Only be sure to give credit to the author(s) and keep up the process by letting the originator know of your experiences.

We thank the authors of the pieces collected in this volume. They met almost impossible deadlines and suffered a rush to publication with a less-than-perfect copy. We insisted that they share their work in progress and they graciously complied. Such cooperation is typical of POD folks.

If you are not already a member of POD, we invite you to join us. This small network is the best way to keep in touch with others who believe that work and learning will be enhanced when we collaborate to support each other. For information about membership and the annual conference (near Montreal, October 14-17, 1983 and Washington D.C., October, 1984) you may contact the Executive Director, Michael Davis, Office of Academic Affairs, University of the Pacific, Stockton, California 95211. Members who wish to submit items for a subsequent edition of this resource book should contact one of us. We look forward to your offerings and responses.

Sandra Cheldelin Inglis, Dean
Administrative Affairs
California School of Professional Psychology
Berkeley, California 94704

Stephen C. Scholl, Dean
Liberal and Professional Arts
John F. Kennedy University
12 Altarinda Road
Orinda, California 94563

Table of Contents

Foreword	iii
Section I: People and Priorities: Reflections on Our Work . . .	1
Empowerment in Academic Cultures: Whose Responsibility is it?	3
Lance C. Buhl
Dreams and Actualities: Danforth Fellows in Mid-Career . . .	19
R. Eugene Rice
The Unaccepted Challenge: Faculty Development for Women .	39
Michele Fisher
Section II. Intellectual Journeys in Faculty Development . .	49
The Scholar-Practitioner Dilemma	51
Robert J. Menges
A Mathematician's Journey: From Applying the Pure to Purifying the Applied	57
Ronald A. Smith
Tanning My Hide with Research	73
Robert E. Young
On Doing Intellectual Work: Grasping the Power of the Gestalt	87
Rita Weatherby
The Creativity of Being Marginal: A Style of Generating Research in Education	99
John D. W. Andrews
The Path of Passionate Inquiry: A Comment of Smith, Young, Weathersby, and Andrews	113
Michael Piechowski

Section III. Evaluating Practices to Improve Teaching . . .	123
Undergraduate Reactions to Teaching Assistants	125
Robert J. Menges and Jeremy Wilson
A Comprehensive Evaluation of a College Course	137
Robert M. Diamond and Richard Sudweeks
Effect of a Teaching Consultation Process Upon Personal Development in Faculty	147
Mary Deane Sorcinelli
 Section IV. Tools for Training and Development	 159
Knowing, Understanding, and Other Forms of Learning	161
Bette LaSere Erickson and Glenn R. Erickson
The Design of Intellectual Experience	185
Donald L. Finkel and G. Stephen Monk
The Dreaded Discussion—Ten Ways to Start	205
Peter Fredrick
Teaching with Charisma	217
James D. Milojkovic
The 'First Day' Workshop	225
Peter Fredrick
A Second Look at Faculty Development and the Second Sex . .	233
Michele Fisher and Winifred Anderson
Overview of Trigger Film Strategies	241
Linc. Fisch
The Classroom Information Manual: A Guide to the Teaching Environment	247
Marina Estabrook
Instructional Improvement Through Individual Consultation . .	251
Deborah E. Simpson, Kathleen A. Dalgaard, and Clyde A. Parker	